

We go beyond just transporting clients to their recovery programs

RTS partners with transportation providers to offer free, reliable rides to individuals in addiction recovery, reducing obstacles for recovery success.

For people in recovery to succeed they need reliable transportation to destinations such as counseling, court mandated programs, work, medical appointments, and more. RTS makes transportation to vetted support services easy and free! When transportation is no longer an obstacle, those in recovery are more likely to succeed as employees, parents, community members and individuals.

Every Person Counts—Won't you help us?

Your contribution, small or large, makes a big difference!

Safer Roadways

Taking drivers off the road that might still be impaired, unlicensed, uninsured or operating unregistered vehicles

Court System

Making it easy for those in recovery and the justice system to attend court dates and fulfill probation requirements

Scheduling

Increased efficiency for employers, court and medical professionals—when their clients and employees can be on time. Reduces time spent on rescheduling missed critical appointments

Self Esteem

Supports self esteem for individuals by fulfilling responsibilities and being punctual for appointments
